DISCLAIMERS AND REFERENCES

ADDITIONAL REFERENCE MATERIALS

This presentation should be read in conjunction with materials from Envela Corporation. ("Envela" or the "Company"), including news releases, website content, Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") filings including our most recent annual and quarterly financial statements and related management discussion and analysis ("MD&A") (collectively "Disclosure Documents"), for full details of the information referenced throughout this presentation. These documents are available on the Company's website at www.envela.com or as applicable on the SEC Electronic Data Gathering, Analysis, and Retrieval System ("EDGAR") at www.sec.gov.

This presentation is for general information purposes only and shall not constitute an offer, solicitation, or sale in any state or jurisdiction, and incorporates the Company's good faith estimates.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS AND ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

This presentation includes statements that may constitute "forward-looking" statements, including statements regarding acquisitions, financial outlook, and the potential future success of business lines and strategies. These statements are made under the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements can generally be identified by the use of forward-looking terminology, such as "may," "will," "would," "expect," "intend," "could," "estimate," "should," "anticipate," "believe," or similar words. Forward-looking statements inherently involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from the forward-looking statements. Factors that would cause or contribute to such differences include but are not limited to, market conditions and other risks detailed in the Company's periodic report filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. By making these statements, the Company undertakes no obligation to update these statements for revisions or changes after the date of this release except as required by law.

NON-UNITED STATES ("U.S.") GENERALLY ACCEPTED ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES ("GAAP") FINANCIAL MEASURES

This presentation includes certain non-U.S. GAAP financial measures, including Adjusted EBITDA, Net Cash and Net Working Capital. These measures have no standardized meaning under U.S. GAAP and may not be comparable to similar measures used by other issuers. The Company believes these measures provide investors with an improved ability to evaluate the Company.

Refer to the glossary for further details.

THIRD-PARTY NAMES AND TRADEMARKS

All product and company names are trademarks or registered trademarks of the respective third-party holders. Our use of such trademarks in our presentation does not imply an endorsement by or affiliation with such third parties.

CURRENCY

All figures presented are in U.S. dollars ("$").

DISCLAIMER

Information provided in the presentation is summarized and may not contain all available material information. Accordingly, readers are cautioned to review the Company's disclosures in full. The Company expressly disclaims any responsibility for readers' reliance on this presentation. This presentation is the property of the Company.

Readers of this presentation shall not interpret the contents hereof to constitute legal, tax, regulatory, financial accounting, or other advice. Readers of this presentation should seek advice from their independent tax advisor, legal counsel, and/or other advisor on such matters.

APPENDICES

GLOSSARY

ADJUSTED EBITDA

Adjusted EBITDA is a non-U.S. GAAP measure and equals net income plus (a) depreciation and amortization expense, (b) interest expense, (c) income tax expense, less (d) other income.

GROSS MARGIN

Gross Margin is the amount of revenue less cost of goods sold, as a percent of total revenue.

NET CASH (DEBT)

Net Cash (Debt) is the difference between (i) cash and cash equivalents and (ii) the sum of debt obligations per the Balance Sheet.

OPERATING CASH FLOW

Operating Cash Flow is the measure of how much cash is generated from normal business operations during the specific period and is referred to as net cash provided by operations in the Statement of Cash Flows.

OPERATING EXPENSE

Operating Expense is the amount of expense that is incurred from performing core operations. Operating income represents (a) selling, general and administrative expense, and (b) depreciation and amortization expense.

OPERATING INCOME

Operating Income is the amount of income that is generated from core operations. Operating income represents sales, less (a) cost of goods sold, (b) selling, general and administrative expense, and (c) depreciation and amortization expense.

REVENUE

Revenue is total sales derived from the income statement.
